

Willamette River Festival Geocache Treasure Hunt Clue Sheet

This wet area is home to lost of diverse plants and animals. Found on the west side it use to cover thousands of acres but is now only small acres of land.

44.0513465, -123.1823718

Where is this? _____

This Springfield park is full of filberts and a great place to start off on a walk or a bike ride on the Middle Fork Path. Look for a shady place to enjoy your lunch and watch the Middle Fork Willamette River flowing by.

44.0239676, -123.0194122

Where is this? _____

This Springfield park is full of filberts and a great place to start off on a walk or a bike ride on the Middle Fork Path. Look for a machine that would have helped these riverside farmers plow and plant their hazelnuts in the last century.

44.0289546, -123.0194055

Where is this? _____

This cache is where the ducks like to swim in one of the biggest parks in Eugene. Some of the unique facilities here include Cuthbert Amphitheater, Whilamut Natural Area, and Native Plant Nursery.

44.0569430, -123.0802873

Where is this? _____

Quarried from a basalt deposit in traditional Kalapuya territory this installation brings educational and cultural references to the area.

44.0464187, -123.0460613

Where is this? _____

This place in Springfield can lead you to Jasper or to Eugene. Look for an old log mill that now has small stores in it. Follow the path towards this trail sign.

44.0423726, -123.0098639

Where is this? _____

This art installation honors the Kalapuya. Seen only from the river or walking it becomes a mystery for those moving too fast to see.

44.048589, -123.050091

Where is this? _____